

company over another by imposing this requirement on one, say an out-of-state company, but not one within Nebraska, it would apply to any company, wouldn't you agree with that or would you agree with that?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: It would in this specific instance, but it is drawn fairly specific. I would say it was drawn to the ethanol plant construction industry here, so it is drawn narrowly in that sense.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But that is what we are talking about...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...at this point, okay.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: But I can't foresee how far-reaching those ripples would be within that industry, itself, within the construction industry is what I am saying.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Well, there is a possibility that if a mosquito lit on the ocean, the ripples may go all the way to the shore. I am not sure but they might, okay.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Yes, and that's part of my...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But here is what I am saying...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: ...discussion.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...they would be so tiny that I don't know that we have the wherewithal to even perceive those minuscule ripples, but here is what I want to ask you proceeding with what I was trying to deal with. If we want to talk about that playing field, it would be a level one for all of the companies which would be bidding, isn't that true?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Within this specific industry, it perhaps would be.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And that is all we are talking about in this amendment.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Well, my contention is that if the ripple is there, there is a mosquito on the ocean, that we can't foresee,
